

How strongly each structural measure separates defective from clean code

Injected (controlled)

Real (observational)

detection strength: red = defective code scores worse, green = defective code scores better (capped at ± 5)